ESSA Title III-A provides formula allocation funds to consortiums based on the number of Identified EL students in each district. Some districts do not have a formula allocation, even though they currently have ELs in their district and are required to comply with Title III mandates.

Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) is part of legislation enacted to include English Learner students, including immigrant children and youth. The primary purposes of this part are to help ensure that English learners attain English proficiency and develop high levels of academic attainment in English and to assist all English learners to achieve at high levels in academic subjects so that all English learners can meet the same challenging state academic standards that all children are expected to meet; and to promote parental, family, and community participation in language instruction educational programs for the parents, families, and communities of English learners. To ensure that ELs are meeting these accountability metrics, Wisconsin has adopted the WIDA English Language Development standards, and measures student achievement toward these standards through the annual administration of WIDA's ACCESS for ELLs assessment. Progress towards meeting the Title III purposes are part of the Department's ESEA state plan.

The goal of the CESA #4 Title III Consortium is to help LEAs insure that English Language Learners (ELs) attain English proficiency and meet challenging academic content standards and to assist LEAs in carrying out all Title III requirements of the federal Every Student Succeeds (ESSA). Districts may purchase membership in the Title III Consortium for $300 as "non-funded" members.

Some districts do not have a formula allocation, even though they currently have ELs in their district and are required to comply with Title III mandates. Those districts may purchase membership in the Title III Consortium through this option as "non-funded" members.
